Administration Predicts Passage Without Any Major Changes Following Long Session; F. D. Suffers One Rebuff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—House leaders—having already made six concessions—today decided to stand pat on the lease-lend bill and battle all Republican attempts for further modification of the measure.

"We discussed many amendments but decided none is acceptable and that we will oppose all amendments not already approved by the committee," said Chairman Bloom (D) N. Y., of the Foreign Affairs Committee, after a secret session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Administration leaders predicted passage of the "lease-lend" bill by the House late today after another uproarious battle over amendments limiting power conferred on President Roosevelt.

Having made concessions and suffered one rebuff at the hands of the House, administration spokesmen declared that they were "over the hump" and foresaw passage of the measure by a decisive vote.

Leaders of the opposition, pitching their fight on the ground that the measure confers dictatorial powers on the President and is a step toward war, hoped to win their fight for drastic modifying amendments.

MICHIGAN "IDENTIFIES" 9,374 FIFTH COLUMNISTS

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 7.—State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander declared today that Michigan state police have identified 9,374 "fifth-columnists" in Michigan.

Olander said the list was growing daily and that he has created a special squad of 100 troopers and officers to uncover "disloyalists" and watch them closely.

Eight Killed As Third Army Bomber Crashes In Period of Six Weeks

LOVELOCK, Nev., Feb. 7.—Charred wreckage of a four-motored "flying laboratory" army bomber on the west slope of northern Nevada's desolate Trinity mountain range was under close guard today pending an official inquiry, while the bodies of eight Army airmen killed in the crash were taken to Lovelock for identification.

Col. E. J. Toohar, of the Sacramento Army Air Depot, heading the board of inquiry, would advance no theories to explain the disaster, third to occur to an army bomber on the Pacific Coast in six weeks.

The B-17-B type flying fortress which crashed and burst into flames yesterday was a specially equipped craft, designed to test flying in sub-zero Alaska temperatures.

It was piloted by Capt. R. S. Freeman, 30, commandant of Ladd Field, Alaska, with First Lieut. E. W. Ketchum, co-pilot, second in command and was en route from McClellan Field, Sacramento to Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Capt. Freeman, a native of Winamac, Ind., was an outstanding army pilot. He led a squadron of six bombers on a goodwill flight to Rio de Janeiro in 1939, and only a few hours before the ill-fated flight yesterday he had received the Mackay trophy for distinguished engineering service. Others listed aboard the plane were:

FASCISTS IGNITE TEPELINI, CLAIM GREEK ADVICES

ATHENS, Feb. 7.—The important Albanian Fascist base of Tepelini. Key to the southern front and the port of Valona, is partly in flames and is being surrounded by Greek troops, according to dispatches received in Athens today.

Evidently in a maneuver preliminary to placing Tepelini under siege, the Greeks are advancing around the town's flanks, these advisers stated.

In addition, it was reported that Greek troops had captured strategic positions in the Voyusha River Valley.

ITALY SAYS F. D. TO SET UP WAR REGIME IN U. S.

Mussolini's Own Newspaper Leading In Campaign Against Uncle Sam

EMBASSY IS PROTECTED

Lindbergh Lauded As "Living Hero In Accordance With Our Ideas"

ROME, Feb. 7.—Premier Mussolini's own newspaper, Popolo d'Italia of Milan, today predicted that President Roosevelt would soon establish a semi-dictatorial war regime under direction from London.

With Mussolini's paper taking the leadership in a campaign against the United States, drastic military precautions were taken to prevent serious anti-American incidents. Special guards were posted around the American embassy and consulate.

"Congress certainly will vote full powers to Roosevelt, after which London virtually will direct American policies," said Popolo d'Italia.

"Roosevelt's first act will be the application of a 'state of emergency'."

DUCE TO SEND 50,000 WORKERS TO GERMANY

ROME, Feb. 7.—Negotiations for dispatch of 50,000 Italian industrial workers to Germany were concluded today.

The workers will be recruited from all sections of the country. It is anticipated that a total of 250,000 Italian workers will be sent to the Reich eventually.

The rest of the Italian press campaigned in a similar vein. Squads of police also were stationed in the streets within a radius of several blocks of the embassy.

Nevertheless, widespread student demonstrations continued. At noon several newspaper correspondents entered a cafe opposite the Italian Ministry of Popular Culture. In the restaurant they heard a group of Italians insult the United States.

While the newspapers hammered at the administration in Washington, the newspaper Il Messaggero published lengthy eulogies of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, H. L. Mengden, Gen. Hugh Johnson and other critics of President Roosevelt's policies.

COST OF RELIEF IN STATE LOWER THAN MONTH AGO

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—Ohio's relief costs in January were approximately four percent less than in December, Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood estimated today.

Based on his statement on reports from 104 of the state's 152 relief areas, Sherwood said that January costs would total about $1,904,000, as against $1,979,681 for December.

However, the case load increased from 77,343 to an estimated 78,350.

Since his department has $900,000 available for its share of the relief bill, the state's participation in January costs will be about 47.4 percent, Sherwood stated.

In January of 1940, the relief bill totaled $2,483,647, or about $580,000 more than last month.

COMPLAINT IS DROPPED LETTING BOY IN ARMY

A nolle prosequi for Russell William Streets, Circleville, Route 3, indicted by the grand jury on charges of auto larceny and held in County Jail on default of bond payment, was filed in Common Pleas Court by Prosecutor George Gerhardt Friday, who said the action was taken to permit Streets to join the army. The youth, whose order number is 1305 on the volunteer list, will be included in the February 12 call.

FIRST PICKAWAY TEACHER CALLED FOR ARMY DUTY

Cyril Moore, vocational agriculture teacher in the Perry Township School, will be the first school teacher in the county called into military service. Superintendent George McDowell announced Friday.

Mr. Moore, who has had ROTC and National Guard training, will leave for service February 20.

The Perry Township board will meet early next week to choose a successor.

RADCLIFF BILL OF IMPORTANCE

More Scope For Farmer Cooperatives Urged In House Measure

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—A bill awaiting action in the House today would increase the power of farmers cooperatives by permitting them to market or sell agricultural products of persons not members of the organization.

Introduced by Rep. Radcliff (R-Pickaway) the measure also would permit such groups "purchase, sale, hiring or use by its members, of supplies, machinery, equipment or services."

Under present statutes, cooperatives are limited to handling only the products of members and are not permitted to sell, buy or hire equipment or services.

Opposition from retail merchants is expected when the bill comes up for hearing in committee because it gives farm groups an opportunity to spread out in competition with private business.

The principal provisions in the bill states:

"An association may be organized to engage in any activity in connection with the marketing or selling of the agricultural products of its members, or others, or with the harvesting, preserving, drying, processing, canning, packing, grading, storing, handling, shipping or utilization thereof, or the manufacturing or marketing of the by-products thereof, or in connection with the manufacturing, selling or supplying to its members of machinery, equipment, supplies or services."

BRITISH PLANES UNLASH ATTACK ON NAZI BASES

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Attacking despite bad weather, British planes last night bombed docks at the invasion ports of Boulogne, Dunkerque, Dieppe, Calais and Fe-camp along the German-occupied French coast, the Air Ministry announced today.

Many bomb bursts were seen on the docks and several fires were started, the ministry stated.

At Dieppe, the communiqué said, a number of brick fires were started after burning for a time they suddenly went out, suggesting that they were barges which burned to the water-line, then sank.

Boulogne was more heavily attacked than the other invasion ports, according to the communiqué, which said the raid there lasted two hours.

At Dunkerque, according to the ministry, bombs burst on docks, barges and shipping, causing fires, (Continued on Page Three)

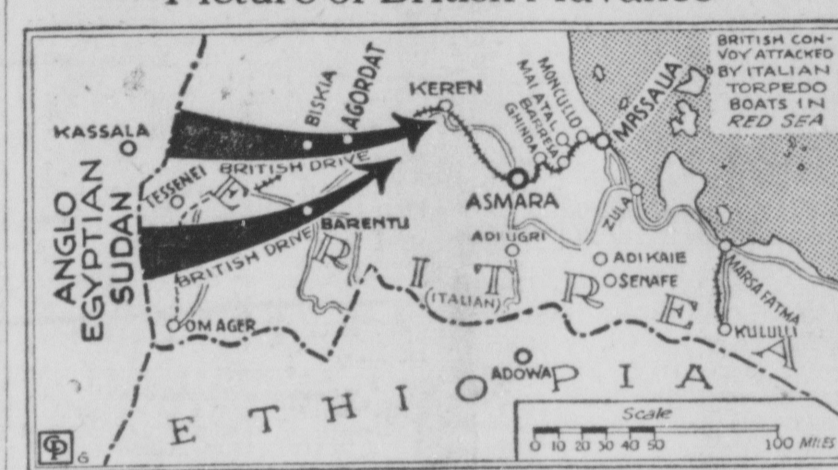

FOOD POISONING KILLS BOY, THIRD IN FAMILY

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Feb. 7.—The death of seven-year-old Joe Medina brought to three today the number of victims of poisoning which struck a family of 14. The boy died last night. His mother, Mrs. Dave Medina, died shortly after the family ate home-canned tomatoes January 25, and the father died two days later.

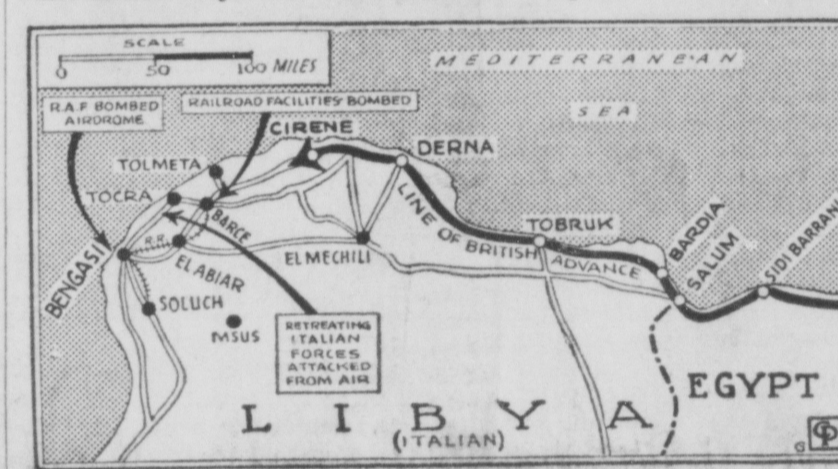

Mrs. Victoria Medina, 23, another member of the family, remained in serious condition while ten brothers and sisters were less seriously ill. The family resided at Minatare, Neb.

'QUADS' ARE FINE, BUT DADDY AND PHYSICIAN DAZED

FARGO, N. Dak., Feb. 7.—The quadruplets — three boys and a girl—born to Mrs. Nick Brown were "fine" today. And so was the 37-year-old reddish-haired mother.

But Nick, the dazed father, and Dr. J. F. Hanna, the middle-aged physician who delivered the quads yesterday afternoon, were still convalescing.

The routine of St. Johns Hospital was disrupted as nurses and physicians and friends of the proud and amazed father pressed noses against the window of the nursery for a glimpse of the Brown quartette.

The babies arrived between 1:10 and 1:15 p. m., first the girl, and were immediately popped into individual incubators and assigned shifts of two nurses who attended them constantly.

In the order of their birth the babies weighed — 4 pounds 10 ounces, 4 pounds 10 ounces, 4 pounds nine ounces, and 3 pounds 12 ounces, a total of 16 pounds 9 ounces.

They came a month premature, Dr. Hanna revealed today, "but they're getting along fine. They all have good healthy cries and good appetites."

F. D. R. TO TALK WITH EX-FOE OF HIS ISLE VISIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he will have another conference with Wendell Willkie when the 1940 GOP nominee returns from England with a first hand report on the British war effort.

The chief executive said no appointment had been arranged yet, but that one would be.

Similarly, Mr. Roosevelt said he expected to see Col. William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan on his return from Europe, although he had no idea when that might be. The President said that Donovan had no official status in the course of his visits to various European capitals. It is generally accepted that he went abroad as the personal emissary of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

WEYGAND BANS BIZERTE'S USE

French Commander Denies Nazis To Be Permitted To Occupy Base

LONDON, Feb. 7.—General Maxime Weygand, French commander-in-chief in North Africa, today formally denied that France will permit Germany to use the vital French naval base at Bizerte, Tunis, according to a Reuters dispatch from Vichy.

Speaking in the name of the French government over the Alger radio, said Reuters, Gen. Weygand also denied that negotiations are proceeding for the cession of Bizerte or for the landing of German troops in the Tunisian base.

'OBJECTORS' TO DRAFT MAY GET CIVILIAN JOBS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Roosevelt today moved to put conscientious objectors against military training at work at civilian jobs.

Selective Service Director Clarence A. Dykstra was authorized in an executive order "to establish, designate, or determine work of national importance under civilian direction" for those young men who claim to be conscientiously opposed to either combatant or non-combatant military training.

Dykstra is given power to an extent necessary to put these conscientious objectors to work to utilize the various services of the federal government.

He is also authorized to "accept voluntary services of private organizations and individuals" and is enabled to obtain by purchase, loan or gift the necessary equipment and supplies.

STRIKE AT LEBANON, O., SHOE FACTORY AT END

LEBANON, Feb. 7.—Four hundred striking employees of the Charles Mees Shoe Company returned to work today without securing the 10 percent wage increase they demanded when they walked out nine days ago. However, Company President Sidney Elmsan said the question of wage adjustments would be discussed "soon."

RAF Opens Way For Ground Force To Win City

ITALIANS FLEEING

Capital Of Eritrea Important Goal Of Empire's Men

CAIRO, Feb. 7.—Working in unison with the Royal Navy and Air Force in the face of a raging sandstorm, British troops have captured and occupied the vital Libyan port of Bengazi, headquarters of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italian commander-in-chief in North Africa.

The new triumph was hailed as an achievement of prime importance.

Among other things, capture of Bengazi gives the Royal Air Force a jumping-off ground for possible attacks against Italy, notably Sicily.

With the Italian defenders in headlong flight to the south, Bengazi surrendered yesterday following what military headquarters in Cairo described as a "brilliant operation" by British armored forces moving south from Jebel Akdar.

Operating from this mountain range, the British succeeded in establishing themselves astride the Italian lines of communications leading south from Bengazi.

Retreat Blocked
This effectively cut off the retreat of those Italian divisions which had failed to get away in the initial rush for safety which got under way as the British advanced.

At the same time, Australian troops operating from recently captured Derna gave the retreating enemy forces no respite.

Demoralized and outmaneuvered, the Italians were unable to effect in the slightest manner any plans which had been made for defense of Bengazi, it was said.

An official communiqué announcing fall of the last Italian stronghold in eastern Libya gave most of the credit to British and Australian land forces. But authentic military information in Cairo made clear that the Royal Air Force had blasted the way for the mechanized land troops while the guns of British warships in the Mediterranean also played a vital role.

Occupation of Bengazi by the British imperial forces marked the fourth major Libyan base to fall into British hands since the start of the westward British "blitz" advance. The others were Bardia, Tobruk and Derna.

The fall of Bengazi constitutes an important triumph for the British, since the Italians had been using the town and seaport as (Continued on Page Three)

FIGHT OVER PAY SCALE TO CLOSE RUBBER FACTORY

AKRON, Feb. 7.—Members of the United Rubber Workers of America today were prepared to strike at the Barberton plant of the Seiberling Rubber Co., following a strike vote which listed 586 for and 258 against.

Frank E. Patton, Seiberling local president, said no immediate action would be taken, as rules of the International Union, a CIO affiliate, state that an international representative must review the situation before the URWA executive board gives official sanction.

The strike issue is over a demand for an 8 1/2 percent wage increase for production workers.

Administration Predicts Passage Without Any Major Changes Following Long Session; F. D. Suffers One Rebuff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—House leaders—having already made six concessions—today decided to stand pat on the lease-lend bill and battle all Republican attempts for further modification of the measure.

"We discussed many amendments but decided none is acceptable and that we will oppose all amendments not already approved by the committee," said Chairman Bloom (D) N. Y., of the Foreign Affairs Committee, after a secret session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Administration leaders predicted passage of the "lease-lend" bill by the House late today after another uproarious battle over amendments limiting power conferred on President Roosevelt.

Having made concessions and suffered one rebuff at the hands of the House, administration spokesmen declared that they were "over the hump" and foresaw passage of the measure by a decisive vote.

Leaders of the opposition, pitching their fight on the ground that the measure confers dictatorial powers on the President and is a step toward war, hoped to win their fight for drastic modifying amendments.

"The House will pass the bill by a big vote today," said Rep. Bloom (D) N. Y., chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, in charge of the bill.

"The real fight comes today on the war-making powers conferred on the President in the bill and we have a good chance to modify the measure," said Rep. Fish (R) N. Y., opposition leader.

Four Changes Urged
Major amendments before the House included:

1. Eaton substitute authorizing the President to grant $2,000,000 credit to Great Britain.
2. Wadsworth amendment limiting authorized aid to Britain to overall figure of $7,000,000,000.
3. Fish amendment prohibiting the President from transferring any part of navy without consent of congress.
4. Amendment prohibiting the President from repairing and outfitting foreign vessels in American ports.

Administration leaders lost control of the House for one brief period yesterday when an amendment offered by Rep. Dirksen (R) Ill., permitting congress to take away Mr. Roosevelt's power to aid Britain by a simple majority vote of both senate and house—and thus taking from him his veto power—was adopted.

Bloom said he was uncertain whether he would seek to reverse the House approval of the amendment (Continued on Page Three)

Selective Service Director Clarence A. Dykstra was authorized in an executive order "to establish, designate, or determine work of national importance under civilian direction" for those young men who claim to be conscientiously opposed to either combatant or non-combatant military training.

Dykstra is given power to an extent necessary to put these conscientious objectors to work to utilize the various services of the federal government.

He is also authorized to "accept voluntary services of private organizations and individuals" and is enabled to obtain by purchase, loan or gift the necessary equipment and supplies.

ITALIANS FLEEING

Capital Of Eritrea Important Goal Of Empire's Men

CAIRO, Feb. 7—Working in unison with the Royal Navy and Air Force in the face of a raging sandstorm, British troops have captured and occupied the vital Libyan port of Bengazi, headquarters of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italian commander-in-chief in North Africa.

The new triumph was hailed as an achievement of prime importance.

Among other things, capture of Bengazi gives the Royal Air Force a jumping-off ground for possible attacks against Italy, notably Sicily.

With the Italian defenders in headlong flight to the south, Bengazi surrendered yesterday following what military headquarters in Cairo described as a "brilliant operation" by British armored forces moving south from Jebel Akdar.

Operating from this mountain range, the British succeeded in establishing themselves astride the Italian lines of communications leading south from Bengazi.

Retreat Blocked

This effectively cut off the retreat of those Italian divisions which had failed to get away in the initial rush for safety which got under way as the British advanced.

At the same time, Australian troops operating from recently-captured Derna gave the retreating enemy forces no respite.

Demoralized and outmaneuvered, the Italians were unable to effect in the slightest manner any plans which had been made for defense of Bengazi, it was said.

An official communiqué announcing fall of the last Italian stronghold in eastern Libya gave most of the credit to British and Australian land forces. But authentic military information in Cairo made clear that the Royal Air Force had blasted the way for the mechanized land troops while the guns of British warships in the Mediterranean also played a vital role.

Occupation of Bengazi by the British imperial forces marked the fourth major Libyan base to fall into British hands since the start of the westward British "blitz" advance. The others were Bardia, Tobruk and Derna.

The fall of Bengazi constitutes an important triumph for the British, since the Italians had been using the town and seaport as (Continued on Page Three)

FIGHT OVER PAY SCALE TO CLOSE RUBBER FACTORY

AKRON, Feb. 7—Members of the United Rubber Workers of America today were prepared to strike at the Barberton plant of the Seiberling Rubber Co., following a strike vote which listed 586 for and 258 against.

Frank E. Patton, Seiberling local president, said no immediate action would be taken, as rules of the International Union, a CIO affiliate, state that an international representative must review the situation before the URWA executive board gives official sanction.

The strike issue is over a demand for an 8 1/2 percent wage increase for production workers.

FARM MEETINGS SCHEDULED FOR AAA DISCUSSION

Instructions To Be Given To Committeemen About Contract Signing

CORN QUOTA WATCHED

Several Important Factors To Be Considered By Federal Office

Soil conservation officials are planning an extensive program for 1941, and announced Friday that they had scheduled two meetings with community committeemen, one next Monday and one the following week, to instruct them on signing Pickaway County farmers with the conservation program. Immediately after the second meeting, the committeemen will begin to contact farmers, John Boggs, conservation chairman, said.

One of the problems which farmers in the county may face in 1941 is the application of a corn marketing quota, the maximum amount of corn which a producer may market without penalty in years when supplies are excessive and farmers vote two-to-one in favor of such restrictions. They are imposed only in years when the supply of corn is more than 10 percent above normal. Although the total corn yield in Pickaway County was cut considerably by the drought last summer, bumper crops in the middle western states may send the total supply of corn over the 10 percent above normal.

Whether or not the marketing quota will be applied in the county depends on the size of the 1941 crop and on the size of the corn carry-over on October 1, 1941, Chairman Boggs pointed out. It is definitely known that the carry-over of old corn in the fall of 1941 will be above normal. Because of the European War and the need for a feed supply adequate to meet any emergency, the 1941 corn allotment is larger than it would otherwise be. Accordingly, an acreage in excess of the allotment or an above-normal yield is almost certain to make the proclamation of marketing quotas necessary.

The marketing quotas will apply to all parts of the commercial corn area, including Pickaway County, regardless of the fact that the production during the current year may have been low. If production of corn in a county is far below normal, and its reserve of stored corn is low, the Secretary of Agriculture may exempt the county from marketing quotas. County officials, however, are doubtful that Pickaway County could receive exemption.

Farmers who raise only small amounts of corn, less than 300 bushels on their planted acreage, will not be subject to the marketing quota penalty.

The system of quotas provides a method of having farmers who have overplanted their corn allotments hold their excess production off the market until it is needed.

FAMED AQUARIUM DOOMED; GOTHAM PLANS NEW ONE

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The New York aquarium, the mecca for thousands of visitors to New York City, is doomed.

Park commissioner Robert Moses, who is remaking New York City's physiognomy, announced today that the aquarium will be razed. Its treasurehouse of rare specimens of fish life will be removed to a modern new aquarium, to be built in the Bronx.

The aquarium, located at the Battery on the lowermost tip of Manhattan Island, was built as a fort in 1807.

You can't mix a girl from the wrong side of the tracks and a boy from the Main Line.

Around this theme is woven the striking drama of "Kitty Foyle," Ginger Rogers' new vehicle taken from Christopher Morley's best-selling novel which appears at the Grand Theatre, Sunday.

Telling the vivid romance of a little Irish girl in Philadelphia with a youth from the Pennsylvania city's leading social group, the "Main Line," the picture is said to be a stirring commentary on the lives of today's white collar girls and their joys and sorrows.

The story begins in 1929 when Kitty leaves business college and gets a short-lived job with the young socialite. Their acquaintance ripens into love and a hasty marriage, but Kitty runs away and annuls it when she realizes she can't live his family's kind of life. Unforeseen complications arise, and after making one sacrifice for the young man's sake and endeavoring to succeed in business, Kitty reaches a point at which she must decide between temporary happiness and permanent security.

The decision, and the events leading up to it, form the gripping conclusion of the timely offering. Dennis Morgan and James Craig have the masculine leads, and Eduardo Ciannelli, Gladys Cooper, Ernest Cossart, Walter Kingsford and other well-known players have important roles. Sam Wood directed.

WILLIE ON FLIGHT THAT WILL SET DISTANCE MARK

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—An aerial trail-blazing adventure today awaited Wendell L. Willie as he sped home aboard the Dixie clipper to testify before congress on the lease-lend bill from his first hand observations in England.

The clipper was scheduled to leave Boloma, in West Africa at noon today on a 3-120 mile dash across the South Atlantic to Trinidad—the longest non-stop flight in aviation history.

Willie reached Boloma late yesterday aboard the clipper which is making a test flight to a southern trans-Atlantic aerial route. If this route is found feasible, it will be regularly utilized in the future.

TRUSTY AT PRISON FARM CONVICTED OF ASSAULT

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Found guilty on an indictment charging him with criminally assaulting the wife of a farmer living near the institution, Frank Barnett, 52-year-old Negro trusty at the London Prison Farm, today awaited sentence and return to the Ohio Penitentiary.

A Madison County jury deliberated less than three hours following testimony by Mrs. George Ratcliff, 22, that she was attacked in her home shortly after her husband left for work on the morning of December 26, Barnett steadfastly denied the charges.

The convict was sentenced from Summit County in 1923 to serve a life sentence for burglarizing an inhabited dwelling at night.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

Highlights of a bygone mode of life, involving Gibson Girls and strawberry festivals, will be recalled on the broadcast of "This Land of Ours" over WLW, Sunday, at 10:30 p. m.

Mansfield, Ohio, will be the locale for a fictional flashback to the days of 1910, when a stock company played at Casino Park; and when everybody turned out for the strawberry festival, a church gathering featuring a Gibson Girl tableau in which all the prettiest lasses in town took part.

The script is by Robert Maley of the WLW continuity division. He visited Mansfield recently to obtain authentic background material for the script.

BOYS TOWN

"What a case history would look like if you could read between the lines" is the way Mons. Edward J. Flanagan describes the dramatized Boys Town story to be heard over WLW on Sunday.

The basis for the story was taken from Father Flanagan's files in the unique village located near Omaha, Nebraska. It concerns a youth born in New York City, deserted by a father engaged in criminal activities, a divorce resulting in split custody of the child, and his final return to normal life in Boys Town.

The broadcast is scheduled from 3:15 to 3:45 p. m. It is one in a weekly series.

LULU BELLE, SCOTTY FILMS

Lulu Belle and Scotty, top-ranking stars of WLW's "Boone County Jamboree" and "Top of the Morning" programs, will leave Cincinnati for Hollywood on March 8 to begin work on the first of two new motion pictures.

The first picture will be called "Country Fair."

The title for the second picture, shooting of which will begin July 7, has not yet been selected.

Lulu Belle and Scotty, who in real life are Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wiseman, have been starred in two previous movies. They were "Shine On, Harvest Moon," made in November, 1938, and "The Village Barn Dance," made in December, 1939.

Preferring to concentrate on radio, Bess Johnson, star of "Hilltop House," turned down three offers to star her in Broadway plays in recent weeks. She spurned several such offers last season too.

With the "full speed ahead" signal on for television, Frank Black, General Music Director of both NBC chains, is being pressed into service to set special musical scores for the sight broadcasting.

YOUTH, 20, ARRESTED FOR SERIES OF TAXI THEFTS

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—Charges of kidnaping and robbery were to be placed against John Stewart, 20-year-old Negro, today in connection with the abduction of a Columbus used car salesman and the robbery of more than 15 taxicab drivers and filling station attendants.

Stewart was captured at Indianapolis, where he forced Stacey Lamb, used car manager for a Columbus dealer, to drive him at gun point.

Columbus Chief of Detectives Lee Phillips said that Stewart was implicated in some Zanesville holdups.

WINTER RETURNS AS SNOW FALLS IN CENTRAL AREA

A light snowfall, accompanied by a temperature drop of 28 degrees, brought winter weather back to Circleville and Pickaway County Friday with a jolt.

Temperatures, which had climbed to the 50 degree mark Thursday noon, began to slide down the scale Thursday evening and by Friday morning had fallen to 22 degrees.

The half inch of snow which fell during the night made state and county roads and city streets slippery. State Highway crews Friday morning sanded hills and curves on all the main routes in the county, but reported that the roads generally were slippery.

Service Director Leonard Morgan said Friday that his crews had sanded the streets at dangerous intersections and under traffic lights but that side streets were icy in places.

More snow and colder weather was predicted for Friday night.

Most of the world's diamonds now come from South Africa. The historic mines of India have been practically abandoned, and Brazil and British Guiana together contribute only 5 percent to the total production.

ITALY SAYS F. D. TO SET UP WAR REGIME IN U. S.

Washington yesterday, expressed the view that Britain and the United States cannot create an aerial strength equal or superior to Germany's. He added he did not believe it desirable or possible for America to control the outcome of European wars, and strongly warned against depleting American military strength to send planes to Britain.)

The newspaper Piccolo devoted special attention to Col. Lindbergh, stating:

"America's moral resources may be summed up in the pure, exalted name of Lindbergh, who is a living hero in accordance with our ideas. Heroes and intelligent persons throughout the world are certain of our victory."

The Italian news agency, Stefani, in a long article, contended that from a maritime point of view the United States is in no position to aid Britain.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Italy has closed the Ito-Swiss border to all freight and passenger traffic, a Reuters (British) dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, said today. No reason was given.

ROME, Feb. 7.—Informed Italian quarters said today they expect important French Mediterranean developments in the near future.

(Editor's Note: While the dispatch did not specify exactly what developments Italy anticipates, reports have been circulating recently that Germany is anxious to obtain naval bases along the French Mediterranean Coast and also perhaps the use of French warships.)

VICHY, France, Feb. 7.—French navy Minister Admiral Jean Darlan plunged into new negotiations with authorities in Paris today after handing over Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Petain's reply to the latest German demands.

Last night, it was learned, Darlan held a long talk with Fernand De Brinon, French ambassador to Paris. The French navy chief is expected to return to Vichy tomorrow.

All Vichy waited expectantly for further word regarding the Paris negotiations, particularly as they concern former Vice Premier Pierre Laval, who was ousted from the government by Petain last December, and whom the Germans want restored to a commanding position in the Vichy regime.

Leahy Sees Petain

While reports and rumors flooded the provisional French capital, one important development stood out. This was a visit paid to Petain yesterday by United States Ambassador William D. Leahy. It was believed that Leahy obtained information from the marshal regarding latest developments in the complex French political situation and in the "crisis" between Vichy and Berlin.

(Editor's Note: In London the Daily Express said it understood Leahy informed Petain the United States "could not regard indifferently the handing over of the French fleet to the axis.")

GOODCHILD FILES REPORT OF ACTIVITIES AT HOME

An annual report made to county commissioners by George O. Goodchild, superintendent at the Children's Home, showed that during 1940 receipts from the home totaled $793.12.

Receipts included those from sale of farm products from the home, amounting to $110.27, $142.85 from private donations and $540 for school bus hire.

Obligations at the home for last year totaled $10,518.06. Largest item of expense was food, which cost $2,586.26. Other expenses were: superintendent's salary, $1,200; matron's salary, $900; physician, $112.75; five other employees, $2,086; clothing, $569.34; medical and dental supplies, $48.32; postage, telephone and telegraph, $35.75; repairs and insurance, $234.16; farm supplies, $371.50; education and recreation, $2,500; purchase of machinery and farm implements, $452.61; trustees' expenses, $10 and other expenses $732.38.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness, thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.—Isaiah 41:1.

Will Stimmel, 80, of Kingston, is in Chillicothe Hospital for treatment of a leg fracture suffered Thursday in a fall in his home. Mr. Stimmel, a close relative of Mrs. B. T. Hedges of North Pickaway Street, is widely known in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutz Ashbrook of near Yellowbud are parents of a daughter born Thursday in Berger Hospital.

Mrs. George M. Pontius of Lancaster Pike, who has been in failing health for the last few months, is critically ill at her home. Mrs. Pontius is the mother of Mrs. John Walters of Circleville Township.

Mrs. Ned Hitchcock and baby boy of Circleville Route 2 were removed from Berger Hospital Friday to their home.

The public is cordially invited to the lecture on current plays, by Mrs. Dewey Head, February 11th, at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church parlors. Sponsored by the Monday Club. Admission 25c.—ad.

Mrs. Fairy Kochensperger of Lovers Lane was taken to Berger Hospital, Thursday, for a major operation to be performed Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Neal, 4-H Club leaders from Scioto Township, will be interviewed by County Agent F. K. Blair in a Farm Night radio broadcast Saturday at 8:15 p. m. over WOSU. The program will be devoted to a discussion of 4-H Club activities.

Mrs. Hazel Lester of Clarksville Route 1, a medical patient in Berger Hospital, was removed home Friday.

A. W. Kirkpatrick, New Holland, has been named administrator of the estate of Carey Timmons, New Holland, Probate Court officials said Friday. The two daughters of the deceased are named as next of kin.

BRITISH PLANES UNLASH ATTACK ON NAZI BASES

while at Fecamp a railway line at the eastern end of the docks was clearly seen to have been hit. One British plane failed to return, the announcement stated.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Germany resumed daylight raids on Britain today after a quiet night. The day's first attack came when a lone Nazi raider bombed an East Anglian coast town, where some persons were killed and others wounded.

The plane dived low and raked the town with machine gun fire before losing its bombs. Its attack, however, may have resulted in the plane's destruction. Ground fire replied to the raid, and as the Nazi plane sped away, it trailed a streak of smoke.

German aerial activity during the night came virtually to a standstill, the Air Ministry announced.

BROWN TO CONCLUDE HIS MASSILLON HIGH CAREER

MASSILLON, Feb. 7.—Close of one of the most exciting phases of Paul Brown's athletic career will come tonight when Ohio State's new football coach directs a Massillon High School varsity for the last time against a Canton McKinley club, in what is expected to be one of the best games of the Ohio scholastic basketball season.

Only those who follow the Canton-Massillon rivalry know how torrid it is from football down the line to tennis, and the Tygers would like nothing better than to give Brown a farewell gift in the form of a victory over the unbeaten Bulldogs. The lone defeat suffered by the Tygers, themselves, was a single point setback by Canton a few weeks ago.

Despite the ravages of influenza which at times had two or three Canton stars out of the lineup, the Bulldogs have won nine straight. Led by all-State Guard Tom Carnes and Jim Inman, Negro scoring threat, Canton is one of the favorites to advance to the state finals in Columbus.

EIGHT KILLED IN U. S. AIRPLANE

the mass of twisted burned metal that remained of the big ship. The four engines were torn loose from the fuselage.

Testing Equipment

Capt. Freeman had been conducting experiments in Alaska preliminary to increase of the Army Air Force in the Far North. The ship was on its way back to Fairbanks after reporting to Wright Field laboratories, to pioneer the use of new equipment which was expected to make flights feasible in weather as low as 70 degrees below zero.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 7.—There was no evidence of sabotage on the Army's four-motored experimental bomber which crashed near Lovelock, Nev., yesterday killing eight flyers, Col. F. C. Nelson, commanding officer at Sacramento Air Depot, said today. Col. Nelson said McClellan Field, where the ship was bayed, had been under stringent guard for the last year.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken at the air depot to maintain constant guard over the flying fortress during its Sacramento stay. The plane was equipped with the Army's secret bombight and other elaborate equipment, air officials confirmed.

The new devices included controls to drain oil from the motors as soon as the four powerful engines were turned off. Automatic shutters were fitted over the engine cowls to retain heat. Insulated oil pipes to insure lubrication to the propeller domes in abnormally low flying temperatures were a particular feature.

Electrically heated flying suits for the aviators inside the cabin were another feature. Air depot officials said Capt. R. S. Freeman, the pilot, had planned to confer with army laboratory experts at Wright Field, Dayton, O., on the progress of his experiments in the Arctic.

ARMSTRONG, Ont., Feb. 7

An inquest was begun today by Canadian authorities in the hope of determining the cause of the Dominion's worst airplane crash, in which 12 persons aboard a trans-Canada airlines transport were killed yesterday.

The huge ship, a Lockheed 14, fell in wild, almost inaccessible country a mile and a half south of the Armstrong airport, a fully lighted and equipped flag stop 360 miles east of Winnipeg in northwestern Ontario, and on the main line of the Canadian National Railway.

Victims included nine passengers and the crew of three. Two of those killed were women. Two of the men, Prof. Robert McQueen of the University of Manitoba, and F. J. Freer, insurance company official, were engaged in war work for the Canadian government.

The ship was enroute from Toronto to Winnipeg and crashed during a snowstorm.

WILLIAMS SAYS POWER OF U. S.'S AIR FORCE MYTH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Warning that American airpower is "a myth," Maj. Al Williams, aviation authority, today told congress that passage of the lease-lend bill will strip the United States of needed defense, and give dictatorial powers to President Roosevelt.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Williams charged war materials now being shipped to Great Britain are depleting the defense of the United States and that "the neglect to provide" a strong air force for this nation is nothing short of criminal.

"America today is woefully deficient in air power," Williams said. "In fact, American airpower is a myth. The neglect to provide that vital arm for America's national defense system is nothing short of criminal."

PASSAGE OF AID BILL DUE TODAY

ment, which, he added, is not important. While Dirksen maintained that it is a highly important amendment, other Republicans said it would have little practical effect. Minority Leader Martin pointed out that since Democrats control both branches of congress, they could prevent a vote on a resolution to take power from the President.

Foes of the bill planned to make their greatest fight for the Eaton amendment. Although the House yesterday rejected the Mundt substitute, limiting British aid to $2,000,000,000 the Eaton substitute left to the President full power to coordinate manufacture of American and British defense articles.

"If my amendment is adopted, which would provide substantial aid for Britain, the bill can be passed by an overwhelming vote," said Rep. Eaton (R) N. J. "This show of unity in congress would electrify the world."

"There is an awakened aversion in America to creating any Hitlerism here in order to fight Hitler abroad, by providing aid by these means, without giving the President dictatorial power, we use the democratic process."

"What I want is to see my people united in the greatest, most momentous time in history."

Rep. Wadsworth (R) N. Y., appealed for adoption of his amendment on the same ground. He said he decided to use the $7,000,000,000 limit because it is liberal and ample. Nevertheless, he said, a limitation means that congress is avoiding the voting of a "blank check" to the President.

Injury Feared

Frequent appeals for the national unity punctuated House debate. Rep. Pace (D) Ga., urging all members to support the bill, declared that if the controversy over the measure is continued six months "my country will be injured more than it could be by any foreign foe."

SCHOOL LEADERS MEET TO SPEAK OF BIG EVENTS

Superintendents of Pickaway County schools met with Superintendent George McDowell, Thursday afternoon, and discussed the chief features of the coming school program.

During the meeting superintendents decided to hold the county teachers' meeting, scheduled for March 15, at the Monroe Township school. Plans for the coming Music Festival were discussed and next Wednesday set as the date for music teachers to meet for further discussion of the program. The meeting will be held at 4:15 p. m. in Superintendent McDowell's office.

During an athletic committee meeting which followed the regular superintendents' meeting, trophies for the county league varsity and reserve team winner or winners were selected. The committee also completed its plans for the county basketball tournament.

Plans were made for the fourth in a series of Discussion Group programs for superintendents, teachers and other school authorities, the meeting to be held at the Circleville High School building next Tuesday evening at 7:30, Dr. John L. Clifton of Ohio State University as the speaker. Dr. Clifton's subject will be "Fundamental Principles of Guidance."

A group discussion will follow the address. The meeting is open to the public. Ralph Francis of Scioto Township will be in charge of the program.

MEL HARDER AGREES TO CONTRACT FOR SEASON

CLEVELAND, Feb. 7.—Ranks of Cleveland Indian holdouts were reduced to six today following Mel Harder's acceptance of a contract. The veteran right-handed pitcher reportedly will be paid $10,000, with a bonus agreement contingent on the number of victories he scores, and the attendance at Tribe games.

Still unsigned were Al Milnar, Hal Trosky, Rollie Hemsley, Roy Weatherly, Jeff Heath and Ken Jungels.

EMPIRE TROOPS TAKE BENGAZI

one of their most important air and naval bases.

Many Reported Fleeing

Prior to the fall of Bengazi, there had been reports that many of the Italian defenders were fleeing from the town, taking much of their mechanized equipment with them.

Preparing the way for the final assault by ground forces, RAF planes blasted Berka and Benina, the two airports outside Bengazi and also raided a railway station at nearby Barce.

Simultaneously, the British headquarters at Cairo revealed that the Imperial troops in Eritrea are making rapid progress.

Rapidly consolidating their new positions, the British already have begun a siege of Keren, important Italian stronghold 50 miles from the Eritrean capital of Asmara, according to military advices.

These dispatches revealed that British artillery batteries are subjecting Italian positions defending Keren to a heavy shelling.

The new assault on Keren proper began after the British completed arduous reconnaissance work in the mountainous country surrounding the town.

Today the main body of British forces in Eritrea are taking up well fortified positions around Keren and within striking distance of the Italians.

British batteries, cunningly concealed in the hillsides, are giving the Fascist positions an intense pounding, it was reported.

But the reports added that the Fascist forces are showing signs of stiffer resistance than the British have yet encountered in Eritrea.

Further south another British column is pursuing an Italian division which fled from the British-occupied town of Barentu.

Word received at Cairo headquarters indicated the British are bringing increasing pressure against this Italian division along a difficult track leading to Adiugri.

Desertions Claimed

Strength of the Italian division was reported "diminishing daily" as a result of casualties and constant capture of prisoners by the British. The Italians also are deserting in considerable numbers, according to these reports.

British officials said they doubted whether more than half the original Italian force ever reach Adiugri and added that the Italians are abandoning increasing quantities of guns, vehicles, tanks and other war equipment in their flight.

ROME, Feb. 7.—Violent fighting south of the Bengazi region in Libya was announced by the Italian high command today.

This picture above tells another story of our constant effort to give you the best in quality, reconditioned used cars with plus reconditioning.

Mr. J. F. Rupp, Divisional Used Car Manager for Chevrolet Motor Division, is shown at the right of the picture discussing with "Bud" Harden details of a training program on proper and thorough used car reconditioning which he is conducting for his service and reconditioning men.

Mr. W. E. Boreen, used car reconditioning instructor is shown at the front of the car instructing Wolfe in the use of a Motor Analyzer—Tom Harden is using a vacuum on upholstery and preparing it to be washed and disinfected. The cushions which have been vacuumed are being washed on a bench in the back ground.

Also in the background is the truck, used in this traveling unit which houses all the newest equipment, tools, materials and parts available for Used Car Reconditioning.

This course of training given our men by Mr. Rupp and Mr. Boreen supplements monthly meetings in Dayton and Columbus attended by our entire service and reconditioning departments.

It is by this constant striving to keep abreast of new developments, by the intensive training program that our men are given and by the use of the newest equipment and materials that we confidently offer our "Plus Reconditioning on Used Cars." One of Chevrolet's special reconditioning units is now operation at the Harden-Stevenson Co. garage. The public is invited to see this demonstration.

OPEN LETTERS

TO PUMPKIN SHOW

DIRECTORS: I am one of the many persons who saw a definite move for economy in the operation of your 1941 Pumpkin Show when you voted to eliminate free acts and the $500 bill that is required to pay for them. Also, I am one of the many persons who hope sincerely that you do not alter your stand and vote again to have free acts. Wouldn't it be a much finer thing to conduct community competitions of one type or another that would be much more attractive to Pickaway County folk, and forget about the high pole artists, jugglers and others who have been taking a pretty nice chunk of money out of Circleville each year? I agree that some persons come to Circleville to see the free acts, but wouldn't they come regardless? They would take in various exhibits of the farmer's skill, the school child's work being exhibited in the Junior Fair, the farmer's wife cookery or her ability to make the finest butter or the prettiest quilt. These exhibits ARE the Pumpkin Show and the more persons we can get to visit these shows the more truly will the Pumpkin Show spirit be shown. If I understand the Pumpkin Show's objectives correctly the free acts were organized to move the crowds from one end of the city to the other. It seems unnecessary that this policy be continued because the advantageous placing of exhibits will move the crowds through the entire business district. The directors of the Agricultural Society have started on the proper path toward keeping expenses within the proper limit, and I hope they continue in that direction. Elimination of the $500 free act expense is one of the most important changes made to date. I hope that nothing is done to change this decision.

CIRCUITEER.

TO MAIN STREET PARKERS

MOTORISTS: Nearly a year ago the city traffic department set up a system of parallel parking on Main Street, with double parking provided for those of you who wished to do shopping on busy afternoons. Under the system as set up, you were permitted to double park for ten minutes, long enough for you to carry your purchases from the store to your car, and then drive on and leave your space for someone else. The system was set up primarily to accommodate you, and traffic officers in the past have been tolerant in considering the length of time you remained parked. Recently, more and more of you have been abusing the double parking privilege. Some of you have double parked as long as half an hour even on Saturday afternoons, a time when the downtown section is naturally congested. Some of you have double parked when there was plenty of space next to the curb and others have parked on the wrong side of the street. Police have warned you time and again, and now are beginning to give tickets to violators. If you are one of them, pay your fine and resolve to refrain from similar violations in the future.

CIRCUITEER.

TO SAFETY DEPARTMENT

CHIEFS: From time to time I am urged by persons, especially those who live in the east end of the city, to suggest a check up in the timing of various stop lights at important intersections. There isn't much question that several of the stop lights are a little too slow. Cars are forced to stand much longer at several intersections than is necessary when you take into consideration the amount of travel on the various streets. A check up might help some.

CIRCUITEER.

TO THE LADIES

FRIENDS: Numerous reports of "grabbing" incidents in almost every section of the city have frightened some of you to where the mere passing of a suspicious looking man has prompted you to become alarmed and turn in an "attack" report. Without a doubt there have been a few actual incidents. None, fortunately, has been serious and no one has been harmed in any way. For you to become unduly alarmed at the situation and turn in false reports makes it all the more difficult for local authorities to secure substantial evidence which might lead to a capture. Of course, you should not disregard the reports, for the situation is one which could become serious. Under any circumstances, either actual or fictitious, keeping a cool head will go farther toward checking the condition than pure hysteria. Carry a long hatpin with you, and don't be afraid to use it.

CIRCUITEER.

TO BOY SCOUTS

FELLOWS: Next week is National Boy Scout Week. It will find you in Circleville and Pickaway County joining with troops all over the United States in celebration of the 31st anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America. During the week you will rededicate yourselves to the principles of good citizenship for which your organization stands and unite in making the doctrine of the scout law a living thing. No other anniversary in the history of your organization has seen such a need for actual living of the scout law. Should every citizen of the world follow those 12 simple rules set forth in the scout law, no other creed, religious doctrine or governmental system would be necessary for peace and harmony. Those rules are: A scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles F. Stewart

AS REMARKED a few days ago, congress' isolationists are a good bit worried relative to the kind of fixing they suspect President Roosevelt's personal, unofficial and strictly confidential agents may be engaged in. In Europe. That is, they're afraid these chaps will wangle us into the war there, sooner or later.

Now the isolationists are developing a supplementary headache over the president's dispatch of another missionary of the same sort (responsible to himself alone) to Asia.

This newest emissary is Lauchlin Currie, formerly an economist connected with the Federal Reserve board, but more recently one of F. D. R.'s executive assistants, "with a passion for anonymity." He's bound for Chungking, to confer with Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and to size up the Oriental war situation generally.

The isolationists agree that it's quite natural for the White House to want all possible information as to the progress of the Jap-Chinese conflict. But why, they anxiously inquire, can't it keep itself fully posted by a careful reading of Ambassador Nelson Johnson's report? He's an experienced diplomat, a capable observer, an expert on the subject of Far Eastern affairs and already knows more about the present Jap-Chinese status than Lauchlin Currie is likely to be able to find out in a hurry.

ISOLATIONISTS' SUSPICIOUS
The conclusion the perturbed isolationists draw is that F. D. R. must have in mind some policy that he doesn't want to reveal until he gets it irrevocably working. Probably, reason the isolationists he couldn't keep his scheme secret if he tried to promote it in co-operation with Ambassador Johnson, because Johnson's job is official; of whatever he does, says or arranges there's a more or less public record. An unofficial White House representative, however, say the isolationists, can keep the contemplated program, if any, profoundly quiet until it's completely formulated and in at least initial operation, when the isolationists surmise that it will be too late for them to object, provided they don't like the looks of it.

Oh, yes, the isolationists, like the most of us, sympathize with China. But, sympathy and all, the face remains that they're ISOLATIONISTS—in capital letters, "KEEP US OUT OF WAR," is their motto. "Aid short of war" is all right with 'em, but not a fraction of an inch beyond staying short of it. If they can prevent it, they don't propose to permit even the slightest step to be taken in a warlike direction—in the direction of a war with Japan any more than in the direction of war against the European end of the Axis.

The Chinese embassy in Washington by the way, says it under stands Lauchlin Currie is going to Chungking officially, not in a presidentially personal capacity.

The Chinese embassy, though, prefers to think so, because if his mission's official, that makes it all the more binding, and the Chinese naturally would be tickled pink to have us at war with Japan on their side.

STRICTLY UNOFFICIAL
Anyhow, the White House announcement of Currie's selection for the visit didn't represent it as an official trip. And it's hard to see how it could be, considering that Nelson Johnson remains on his ambassadorial job. And, besides, Currie couldn't go, under official appointment, without congressional confirmation, which has not been so much as asked for.

Perhaps I've somewhat over-emphasized the isolationists. They are the noisiest critics certainly, but they're not the only members of congress who find fault with personal presidential diplomatic representation abroad.

There are a good many legislators that are not particularly isolationistic, who object to quite so much executive secrecy in the matter of our foreign relationships at the existing critical juncture. Constitutionally, to be sure, management of our overseas affairs primarily is an executive function. Nevertheless, at a time like today's, many lawmakers contend that Capitol Hill ought to be considerably consulted.

letters on line four. They were sent, one by one, before a medical officer in a room. The officer was writing at a desk. The recruit stood before him. The officer said casually without looking up from his writing, "Hang your hat on that nail in the wall." The recruit turned and walked straight to the nail and hung up his hat. The officer said, "That's all." The examination was over. If the recruit's vision was as bad as he said it was, he couldn't have seen the nail.

Checking a Pretended Ill

Another ruse described by a British army surgeon concerned a man who was shell-shocked so badly that he could not speak. This is, true enough, a common symptom of shell shock. But this soldier's condition persisted a long time. One day doing ward rounds, the doctor stopped at the foot of his bed and said, "Orderly, some of my colleagues have been trying a new treatment for shell shock—they give the patient a bottle of beer before his supper. Try it on this man."

When they got out of the ward the doctor said to the orderly, "Don't give him any beer but when I ask you every day if he has had his beer you say 'Yes, sir.'"

So the next day this little dialogue was gone through. The doctor next day stopped at the foot of the speechless man's bed, looked at him and asked, "Orderly, has this man had his beer?" and the orderly answered "Yes, sir."

Next day the same thing. Next day the same thing. But on this day the man burst of speech said, "That man's a damned liar."

Stiff Backs

The recruits with stiff backs were another group that a friend of mine cleaned up by the device of having them come in his room and just as they came to his desk he dropped what was apparently their report card. "Oh! pick that up, will you please?" he would remark in his kindest tones. If the recruit stooped over and picked it up, he didn't have a stiff back.

There are hundreds of other ways of detecting malingerers. They have to be varied because words get around and they all find out about it. But I always noticed that if a malingeringer was detected, he didn't get nic' work.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. J. C.:—"What causes weeping eczema?"

Answer—Eczema is a descriptive term which applies to any rough, scaly eruption on the skin. The causes are many. In babies and young children, it is pretty generally agreed that it is due to hypersensitiveness to some food. In adults, eczema may be caused by local irritants, or by the absorption of irritants through the stomach. Many cases are due to dress goods, gloves, spectacle frames, shoe leather, etc.

CHAPTER ONE

ANY MAN would look ridiculous crawling around on his all fours, while wearing striped trousers and a cutaway coat, and Joel Randall knew that he was no exception.

But as he poked his head under Bill's modernistic coffee table he wasn't thinking very much about how he looked. He was thinking about a title for a story. "Three Times a Groomsman But Never a Groom." What was more, if he were a writer like Bill, he might even write a story to fit the title—maybe one of those confession yarns that were flooding the country. For he had certainly accumulated plenty of material, and from his own personal experience at that.

There was Andy's wedding, for instance, with him and Andy all done up in tails and white ties. And Jim's. Jim's had been an elopement, but he had stood up with Jim also. All of them in sport clothes and looking rather like boiled lobsters, since Jim and Irene had decided to get married right after a particularly strenuous golf tournament on a particularly hot day.

And now his cousin, William Randall Latham.

He and Bill were at the church in 20 minutes, where there would be a mile or so of southern smilax, yards and yards of satin ribbon, several hundred feet of cheesecloth tacked down the aisles, four lovely girls in green, and yellow and blue and pink, and four ushers looking more or less self-conscious in formal attire and white carnations. Yes, they were due at the church in 20 minutes, and yet here he was crawling around on the floor of the bachelor apartment he and Bill had been sharing for the past three years. And he wasn't alone, either. Aunt Sallie Randall was with him. She was also on her hands and knees, getting all tangled up in the black lace bouffants of her gown or the strings and strings of beads she insisted upon wearing.

"Found it yet?" Bill called from the bedroom.

"No!" said Aunt Sallie crossly.

"And I must say this is a fine time for a treasure hunt," she said.

"Well, keep on looking!" said Bill. "I'll keep you in three shakes of a sheep's tail."

"And speaking of sheep," said Joel wearily, "Bill gets my goat."

Aunt Sallie sat back upon her heels and looked at him.

"I've looked everywhere," she said.

"So have I," said Joel. "Maybe it bounced out of the window."

"Nonsense! Wedding rings don't bounce."

"No?" said Joel. "Perhaps they never stick very long."

"Cynic," Aunt Sallie pushed a strand of graying but permanent waved hair from her eyes. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Joel Randall, talking about marriage in such a fashion."

"Even the characters in Bill's stories fight and get divorced," he went on. "He's never yet written about a happy marriage."

"What of it?" said Aunt Sallie. "He has to write what the editors want."

"Anyway," said Joel, "I hope he doesn't make the mess of his marriage that most of his heroes make of theirs. Take the hero of his book, 'Marriage for Three'; now there's—"

"You take him," Aunt Sallie cut in. "The hero of this particular drama or comedy or whatever you want to call it is about all that I can handle."

Joel grinned. God bless Aunt Sallie! She was certainly one grand relative, or relative-in-law rather. If she hadn't been—if she hadn't had a lot of barbs and humor, she never would have lived through the ordeal of bringing up two orphaned nephews.

"I must say this is a fine time for a treasure hunt," said Aunt Sallie.

He slid over to the bookcase and tried to look under that. And as he did so his thoughts rushed back over the years and he saw himself then as he was now—down on the floor looking for something. Only then it had been a favorite toy of Bill's which was lost, and for which Bill was yelling lustily. And, oddly enough, Aunt Sallie was in the picture also. She, too, was searching for the lost toy.

"Bill's such a little fellow," she had said. "And we must do everything we can, Joel, honey, to make him forget all he has been through."

"Yes'm," Joel had said.

"We don't want any scars on his memory," Aunt Sallie had continued, "even if there are scars on his body."

"No'm," Joel had said.

At first when Bill had come to live with Aunt Sallie, Uncle John and Joel—"just another orphan of the storm," as Aunt Sallie expressed it—Joel had taken great pride in being protective. He was two years older than Bill, and his small boy heart had gone out to the younger child. Having your parents killed instantly in an automobile accident was a terrible thing, and since Bill, young as he was, was able to realize the tragedy of it, they had all felt that they mustn't leave a stone unturned in their efforts to help him erase the dreadful picture from his mind. He had looked so little and frightened, with his broken leg, and cut face, and all the bruises that marked his slender little body, that Joel couldn't seem to do enough for him. He had kept telling himself how lucky a person he was not to have seen his parents killed before his eyes.

He was quite sure that he missed his mother and father just as much as Bill missed his, but he found a certain comfort in the fact that they had died under the roof of the old house in which his Aunt Sallie still lived; and while he knew it was sad for people to die during an epidemic, he had been deeply grateful that he hadn't seen his own mother and father broken and crushed upon a public highway.

And now, here he was, years later, still looking for something Bill had lost. And Aunt Sallie was helping him.

He wondered if Aunt Sallie was also thinking about those other times—all the days, and weeks, and months, and years they had put in being protective, while Bill got into this scrape and that one, always excusing himself by saying that a writer had to live excitingly in order to gather material.

But no matter what Aunt Sallie was thinking, she had always been a lot more patient with Bill than he had been. And while she had often grieved privately over some escapade of Bill's, Aunt Sallie had never openly criticized him. That was one thing which had often annoyed Joel. And there had been times when he had felt a decidedly strong urge to wring the neck of his cousin. But his loyalty to his Aunt Sallie had kept him from letting Bill know just what he thought of him. "You certainly are kind to that handsome little cousin of yours," a neighbor had once said. He had tried not to glare at her, although that was exactly what he wanted to do. Stiffening, and looking straight at the neighbor, he had replied, "My interest in him is—strictly protective."

The woman had thought this terribly amusing, so grown up, as she told him Aunt Sallie afterwards.

But she had missed the point entirely.

Playing nursemaid and guardian to William Randall Latham had been a big job, since Bill seemed satisfied to laugh his way through life and let the other fellow take care of the more serious matters that came up. But he would soon be handing Bill over to Rita. He would be her responsibility from then on. Taking a deep breath, Joel thought: "Gosh, it's going to be great to live my own life for a while!" By this time tomorrow Bill would be off on his honeymoon, and he would be driving up to the cabin in the mountains which Uncle John had left him and Bill, but which Bill never used.

TO PUMPKIN SHOW

DIRECTORS: I am one of the many persons who saw a definite move for economy in the operation of your 1941 Pumpkin Show when you voted to eliminate free acts and the $500 bill that is required to pay for them. Also, I am one of the many persons who hope sincerely that you do not alter your stand and vote again to have free acts. Wouldn't it be a much finer thing to conduct community competitions of one type or another that would be much more attractive to Pickaway County folk, and forget about the high pole artists, jugglers and others who have been taking a pretty nice chunk of money out of Circleville each year? I agree that some persons come to Circleville to see the free acts, but wouldn't they come regardless? They would take in various exhibits of the farmer's skill, the school child's work being exhibited in the Junior Fair, the farmer's wife cookery or her ability to make the finest butter or the prettiest quilt. These exhibits ARE the Pumpkin Show and the more persons we can get to visit these shows the more truly will the Pumpkin Show spirit be shown. If I understand the Pumpkin Show's objectives correctly the free acts were organized to move the crowds from one end of the city to the other. It seems unnecessary that this policy be continued because the advantageous placing of exhibits will move the crowds through the entire business district. The directors of the Agricultural Society have started on the proper path toward keeping expenses within the proper limit, and I hope they continue in that direction. Elimination of the $500 free act expense is one of the most important changes made to date. I hope that nothing is done to change this decision.

TO MAIN STREET PARKERS

MOTORISTS: Nearly a year ago the city traffic department set up a system of parallel parking on Main Street, with double parking provided for those of you who wished to do shopping on busy afternoons. Under the system as set up, you were permitted to double park for ten minutes, long enough for you to carry your purchases from the store to your car, and then drive on and leave your space for someone else. The system was set up primarily to accommodate you, and traffic officers in the past have been tolerant in considering the length of time you remained parked. Recently, more and more of you have been abusing the double parking privilege. Some of you have double parked as long as half an hour even on Saturday afternoons, a time when the downtown section is naturally congested. Some of you have double parked when there was plenty of space next to the curb and others have parked on the wrong side of the street. Police have warned you time and again, and now are beginning to give tickets to violators. If you are one of them, pay your fine and resolve to refrain from similar violations in the future.

CIRCUITEER.

TO SAFETY DEPARTMENT

CHIEFS: From time to time I am urged by persons, especially those who live in the east end of the city, to suggest a check up in the timing of various stop lights at important intersections. There isn't much question that several of the stop lights are a little too slow. Cars are forced to stand much longer at several intersections than is necessary when you take into consideration the amount of travel on the various streets. A check up might help some.

CIRCUITEER.

TO THE LADIES

FRIENDS: Numerous reports of "grabbing" incidents in almost every section of the city have frightened some of you to where the mere passing of a suspicious looking man has prompted you to become alarmed and turn in an "attack" report. Without a doubt there have been a few actual incidents. None, fortunately, has been serious and no one has been harmed in any way. For you to become unduly alarmed at the situation and turn in false reports makes it all the more difficult for local authorities to secure substantial evidence which might lead to a capture. Of course, you should not disregard the reports, for the situation is one which could become serious. Under any circumstances, either actual or fictitious, keeping a cool head will go farther toward checking the condition than pure hysteria. Carry a long hatpin with you, and don't be afraid to use it.

CIRCUITEER.

TO BOY SCOUTS

FELLOWS: Next week is National Boy Scout Week. It will find you in Circleville and Pickaway County joining with troops all over the United States in celebration of the 31st anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America. During the week you will rededicate yourselves to the principles of good citizenship for which your organization stands and unite in making the doctrine of the scout law a living thing. No other anniversary in the history of your organization has seen such a need for actual living of the scout law. Should every citizen of the world follow those 12 simple rules set forth in the scout law, no other creed, religious doctrine or governmental system would be necessary for peace and harmony. Those rules are: A scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

AS REMARKED a few days ago, congress isolationists are a good bit worried relative to the kind of fixing they suspect President Roosevelt's personal, unofficial and strictly confidential agents may be engaged in. ALLEN EPPE'S

CHAPTER ONE

ANY MAN would look ridiculous crawling around on his all fours, while wearing striped trousers and a cutaway coat, and Joel Randall knew that he was no exception.

But as he poked his head under Bill's modernistic coffee table he wasn't thinking very much about how he looked. He was thinking about a title for a story. "Three Times a Groomsman But Never a Groom." What was more, if he were a writer like Bill, he might even write a story to fit the title—maybe one of those confession yarns that were flooding the country. For he had certainly accumulated plenty of material, and from his own personal experience at that.

There was Andy's wedding, for instance, with him and Andy all done up in tails and white ties. And Jim's. Jim's had been an elopement, but he had stood up with Jim also. All of them in sport clothes and looking rather like boiled lobsters, since Jim and Irene had decided to get married right after a particularly strenuous golf tournament on a particularly hot day.

And now his cousin, William Randall Latham.

He and Bill were at the church in 20 minutes, where there would be a mile or so of southern smilax, yards and yards of satin ribbon, several hundred feet of cheesecloth tacked down the aisles, four lovely girls in green and yellow and blue and pink, and four ushers looking more or less self-conscious in formal attire and white carnations. Yes, they were due at the church in 20 minutes, and yet here he was crawling around on the floor of the bachelor apartment he and Bill had been sharing for the past three years. And he wasn't alone, either. Aunt Sallie Randall was with him. She was also on her hands and knees, getting all tangled up in the black lace laces of her gown or the strings and strings of beads she insisted upon wearing.

"Found it yet?" Bill called from the bedroom.

"No!" said Aunt Sallie crossly. "And I must say this is a fine time for a treasure hunt."

"Well, keep on looking!" said Bill. "I'll be with you in three shakes of a sheep's tail."

"And speaking of sheep," said Joel wearily, "Bill gets my goat."

Aunt Sallie sat back upon her heels and looked at him.

"I've looked everywhere," she said.

"So have I," said Joel. "Maybe it bounced out of the window."

"Nonsense! Wedding rings don't bounce."

"No?" said Joel. "Perhaps they never stick very long."

"Cynic!" Aunt Sallie pushed a strand of graying but permanent waved hair from her eyes. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself. Joel Randall, talking about marriage in such a fashion!"

"Even the characters in Bill's stories fight and get divorced," he went on. "He's never yet written about a happy marriage."

"What of it?" said Aunt Sallie. "He has to write what the editors want."

"Anyway," said Joel, "I hope he doesn't make the mess of his marriage that most of his heroes make of theirs. Take the hero of his book, 'Marriage for Three'; now there's—"

"You take him," Aunt Sallie cut in. "The hero of this particular drama or comedy or whatever you want to call it is about all that I can handle."

Joel grinned. God bless Aunt Sallie! She was certainly one grand relative, or relative-in-law rather. If she hadn't been—if she hadn't had a lot of backbone and humor, she never would have lived through

"I must say this is a fine time for a treasure hunt," said Aunt Sallie, the ordeal of bringing up two orphaned nephews.

He slid over to the bookcase and tried to look under that. And as he did so his thoughts rushed back over the years and he saw himself then as he was now—down on the floor looking for something. Only then it had been a favorite toy of Bill's which was lost, and for which Bill was yelling lustily. And, oddly enough, Aunt Sallie was in the picture also. She, too, was searching for the lost toy.

"Bill's such a little fellow," she had said. "And we must do everything we can, Joel, honey, to make him forget all he has been through."

"Yes'm," Joel had said.

"We don't want any scars on his memory," Aunt Sallie had continued, "even if there are scars on his body."

"No'm," Joel had said.

At first when Bill had come to live with Aunt Sallie, Uncle John and Joel—just another orphan of the storm, as Aunt Sallie expressed it—Joel had taken great pride in being protective. He was two years older than Bill, and his small boy heart had gone out to the younger child. Having your parents killed instantly in an automobile accident was a terrible thing, and since Bill, young as he was, was able to realize the tragedy of it, they had all felt that they mustn't leave a stone unturned in their efforts to help him erase the dreadful picture from his mind. He had looked so little and frightened, with his broken leg, and cut face, and all the bruises that marred his slender little body, that Joel couldn't seem to do enough for him. He had kept telling himself how lucky a person he was not to have seen his parents killed before his eyes.

He was quite sure that he missed his mother and father just as much as Bill missed his, but he found a certain comfort in the fact that they had died under the roof of the old house in which his Aunt Sallie still lived, and while he knew it was sad for people to die during an epidemic, he had been deeply grateful that he hadn't seen his own mother and father broken through superiors will be followed by sudden troubles. You should be on your guard against sudden fraud and deception, and avoid hasty conduct. Born today, a child will be very clever, but likely to meet many vicissitudes of fortune. Sudden unexpected losses, disappointment in love and friendships through deception are threatened.

Meter Hulse, Mrs. Schiering, Mrs. Paul Peck, Mrs. Ulin McGhee, Mrs. Omar Creighton, Mrs. Wendell Evans, Mrs. John Farmer, Jr., Mrs. Leslie Canup, and Mrs. R. V. Hamman of the Atlanta community.

A salad course was served at the small tables following the games. Mrs. Hodgdon won guest high, Mrs. Evans, club high, Mrs. McGhee, traveling, and Mrs. Dawson, low, when tallies were compared.

Mrs. Peck will entertain the club in March.

U. B. Missionary Group

A thankoffering program marked the meeting of the United Brethren Missionary Association Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Kern of West Union Street. The hostess arranged the program which included readings by Miss Nellie McCollister, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. Ross Kirkpatrick and Mrs. John Stevenson, a solo by Mrs. Iley Greeno and songs by the group.

Mrs. James Trimmer, president, was in the chair for the business hour. The Rev. A. N. Gruesser offered prayer during the devotion. Lunch was served to 25 members and visitors.

The next meeting, March 6, will be an all day session at the community house with all women of the church invited.

Euchre Club

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall of Washington Township were hosts Thursday to their euchre club.

When scores were compared at the close of the games, Mrs. Eugene Bach and Eugene Barthelma received the trophies.

A salad course served at the small tables concluded the affair. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Riegel, near Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Poling, Thatcher; Mr. and Mrs. Bach, Washington C. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Barthelma, Circleville; Miss Josephine Wolfe, Pickaway Township, and George Fischer, Jackson Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Poling will entertain the club in two weeks.

Earnest Workers' Class

The Earnest Workers' Class of the Methodist Church will meet Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the church basement where a covered dish supper will precede the social session.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn F. Hines and Mr. and Mrs. Cleremont McClure will be hosts for the affair.

Euchre Club Meets

Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson of West Water Street were hosts to members of their euchre club, Thursday, valentine decorations forming a gay background for the pleasant evening.

Prizes for scores went to Mrs. Hudson and Howard Richardson at the close of the games. A salad lunch concluded the affair.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clydus Young, Mr. and Mrs. Max Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hines, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Miss Mildred Francis and Mr. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will entertain the club in two weeks at their home on East Water Street.

Camp Committee Meets

Mrs. Ralph Curtin and Mrs. Fred Moeller of Circleville were among those present at Tar Hollow Camp committee meeting Thursday at the Seneca Hotel, Columbus.

Plans were discussed for the summer camp activities by representatives of the various communities.

The next meeting of the group will be April 24 at the Seneca Hotel.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann, Mrs. George Fissell and Mrs. John Rhoads of Circleville are members of the Circleville camp committee who were unable to be present at the meeting.

Mt. Pleasant W. S. C. S.

Mt. Pleasant W. S. C. S. met recently at the church with 25 members and visitors participating in the business discussion.

After a brief devotional period, plans were made for a food sale for Saturday. The donation from the group to missions was also discussed.

Mrs. Roy Rittinger won an interesting contest after which Mrs. Ursie Cross, Mrs. Leota Metzger and Mrs. Lillie Baird served refreshments.

Mrs. Terwilliger Hostess

Mrs. R. R. Bales received traveling and high score prizes and Mrs. L. M. Mader, second prize, Thursday when Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger of East Main Street entertained a club group in her home.

Two tables progressed during the informal party which was concluded with delightful refreshments.

Pythian Sisters

Piano solos by Miss Ethyl May, a Valentine party and several contests entertained members of the Pythian Sisters Thursday at the informal social session which followed the business hour in charge of Miss Ann Baucher, most excellent chief.

After the ritualistic ceremonies, the charter was draped for fight or a fight anyway. Promoter Mike Jacobs has given Godoy until March 10 to come in and give himself up for a third fandango with the champion. If he still is in hiding at that time, then a substitute will be nominated, and it looks as though Bob Pastor will be it, also for a third fandango with or around Louis.

Godoy and Pastor need no introduction by virtue of the fact that they have been fully tested by Louis in public. Godoy went 15 once and nearly got his head chopped off the next time before being stopped. Pastor hopped, skipped and jump 10 rounds with Louis, then also went the way of all flesh in his encore.

McGranahan is Resigned To Be Brown's Old Man

By Larry Newman

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7 — Hugh McGranahan grinned his best Irish grin today and admitted he was probably destined to be known as the "old man" of the new Ohio State University football coaching staff.

The future of Buckeye football teams is in the hands of the youngest coaching staff in big time football and "Mac" is the oldest member of the "youth movement" although but 39 years of age.

But Paul (Bucky) Brown, the 32-year-old chief of staff, isn't worried because his aides aren't gray-haired about the temples and shaving twice a day.

"After we get organized," the sage Brown declares, "we'll be able to hold our own."

Fritz Heisler, a veteran at 26, (and a very eligible bachelor) played under Brown at Massillon for one year and then three years at Miami University before returning to his high school alma mater to help turn out the Massillon miracle teams.

Trevor Rees, the frosh coach, is 27; Paul Bixler, head basketball coach and assistant to Andy Kerr at Colgate, is 34; Carroll C. Widdoes and Eddie Bickler are 34 and Fritz Mackey is 37.

Policies Changed

Along with the announcement of his staff, the new Buck mentor revealed several "changes of policy" at the High Street institution. They included:

1—Reserve football with the possibility of a three or four game schedule.
2—A division of the scouting duties among Bixler, Widdoes and Mackey.
3—Abolishment of the head line coach and head backfield coach to a system of position coaches; and 4—The plan for inserting a "little fun and real fellowship" into the football practice "grind."

"We want the boys to love the game so much, they'll want to be out there every day on time and ready for anything," Brown stated.

Although no salary schedules were revealed for the seven assistant coaches, it was learned that McGranahan and Widdoes had turned down lucrative offers to remain at Massillon. They expressed the desire to "go along and help Brown."

Bixler Real Plumb

Brown declared at a press conference that Ohio State was fortunate in wearing Bixler away from Colgate. He described the Colgate assistant as "the keenest coach and play analyst in the business."

Steering clear of any discussion of proselytizing players, Brown said that all members of the staff would act as contact men for the university. "If a boy is interested in attending classes and playing football at Ohio State, it will be our business to contact him," Brown asserted.

Winter practice will open at the university on February 19 while the new staff will probably be on hand for the first spring drill on April 1. Widdoes and McGranahan will assume their duties in the athletic department on March 1 while Bixler's contract goes into effect April 1. Rees and Heisler will take over July 1 while Mackey and Bickler are already on hand and will take up where they left off last November.

WASHINGTON '5' WINS 40-29 TILT ON PERRY COURT

Washington Township cagers traveled to Atlanta Thursday evening to play the Perry Township quintet in a county league game originally booked for Friday night. The score was 40-29, Harry Rife leading the scoring parade with a dozen points.

Washington reserves won the preliminary, 23-16.

FEDERALS WIN 46 TO 40 CONTEST

C. A. C. Unable To Keep Up In Last Half After Early Margin

Circleville Athletic Club cagers were unable to stop the basket shooting of Glen Golden and Red Foster, stars of the Federal Glass crew, and lost a 46-40 decision Thursday evening. The game was well played, but Golden and Foster were hot, and that's all there was to it.

The C.A.C.-Stone's Grill combine was handicapped by Melson's absence from the lineup and by an ankle injury that Jerry Millar suffered early in the game.

Purcell, playing a guard, scored 15 points to trail Golden by a single marker.

C.A.C. reserves won 61-35 from Whisler, Wimpy Walden getting 16 and Harold Smith 13 points.

District Scouts Start Anniversary Observance

Boys To Serve Business Houses In City, Two Towns Saturday

ALL TO ATTEND CHURCH

Area Council Has Dinner Meeting With Several Local Men Present

Scouts and Scouters of Circleville and Pickaway County joined with others throughout America, Friday, in celebrating the 31st anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement.

During the coming week local Scouts will take an active part in social activities of the community. Saturday is Anniversary day for local scouts with all Circleville, Williamsport and New Holland scouts doing Good Turn service at various business places in their communities. Saturday evening at 7:30 scouts will listen to the nation-wide broadcast by President Roosevelt; Walter D. Head, president of the Boy Scouts of America, and Chief Scout Executive James E. West.

Sunday will be Scout Sunday, with scouts and their leaders being honored with special services in the various churches of the city and county.

Dan McClain, camping and activities chairman for the Pickaway District of the Central Ohio Council of the Boy Scouts of America, is in charge of Anniversary Week activities.

"Be Prepared"

Strengthening and invigorating democracy is the theme of the Scout Week celebration, and all troops are placing special emphasis on the Scout Motto "Be Prepared" and the training for service in case of emergency.

Pickaway County scouters celebrated the opening of Scout Week by attending an annual dinner meeting of the Central Ohio Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Y. W. C. A. in Columbus. Guest speaker at the banquet was Paul E. Brown, head football coach at Ohio State University. Coach Brown formerly was a scout. Phil S. Bradford served as toastmaster for the occasion.

Silver Beaver awards presented to three men for their outstanding service to scouting during the year. They were W. S. Glesenkamp, Harold R. Lee and C. M. Riggs.

Local scouters who attended the meeting included William D. Radcliff, Renick Dunlap, L. V. Hulise, Dan McClain, Dr. J. J. Baker and Dr. David Goldschmidt.

WILLIAMSPORT

Mrs. Fanny Sampson is convalescing after her recent operation at the home of her sister Mrs. Katie West.

Byron Bolender and children, Martha and David of Circleville visited with Mrs. Fanny Sampson Sunday. Mrs. Sampson is at the home of Mrs. Katie West.

Members of the Forum enjoyed a cooperative supper Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Gire in Sabina. Those present from Williamsport were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose and daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Boyer and children Patty and Bobby, Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson and daughter Linda.

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Gamble and daughter Letitia visited all day Sunday with Mrs. Gamble's mother, Mrs. Letitia Decker of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bochart and Miss Carolyn Bochart visited Sunday with Mrs. Clinton Raymond of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunlap attended the funeral of Mrs. Owen Lamb in Columbus Tuesday. Mrs. Lamb was a sister of Mrs. Dunlap's.

Mrs. Florence Duvendek had as her Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Heusch of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hunsicker.

Mercy Ship's Skipper Sails

CAPTAIN Alfred Moore, skipper of the mercy ship Cold Harbor, receives a farewell kiss from Miss Helen Coppenhaver, Red Cross worker, as the vessel sails from Baltimore, Md. The Cold Harbor is taking a $1,000,000 relief cargo to France and Spain.

CHEMICAL FIRM ORDERED TO PAY BACK SALARIES

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—The Dow Chemical Co., of Midland, Mich., today was ordered by the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to reinstate 25 employees and pay them an estimated $100,000 in back wages as the court upheld the national labor relations board in all but one phase of its decree. The brief opinion of Judge John D. Martin granted enforcement of the board's order against the company except for a provision that it reimburse federal, state or municipal relief agencies for funds spent in caring for workers during their period of unemployment.

AMANDA

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Reid and Mrs. Ida Vincent of Millersport and James Liggett of Columbus motored to Pittsburgh, Pa., Monday and will spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Liggett.

Mr. and Mrs. Lory Hyme and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Martens. Their six o'clock dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Downs and son, Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mall, daughter Barbara, of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reed and Mrs. Lester Shupe were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed, north of Amanda.

Miss Mary Frances Lower returned home Friday after undergoing an appendectomy at Lancaster Municipal Hospital. Miss Lower is a student nurse at the Lancaster Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Campbell of Royalton spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell of Ashville.

Mrs. Sidney Thomas of near Cedar Hill is slowly improving after a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Young and daughter entertained Dr. and Mrs. O'Neil of Columbus, Sunday.

Miss Edna Pearce and Mr. and Mrs. Harold North of Columbus were Sunday guests of her mother, Mrs. Ella Hall.

Mrs. Mazie Kennedy and son, Dale were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hart of South Bloomingville.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kennedy and Mrs. Mazie Kennedy spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clendenen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marion of Circleville were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Marion.

Mrs. Loren Armstrong arranged a birthday surprise dinner for her

VETERAN OF WAR WITH SPAIN DIES IN ADELPHI HOME

Henry Alber, 59, a retired employee of the Seagraves Corporation, Columbus, where he had worked for 25 years, died suddenly after a heart attack Thursday at 10:45 p. m. at his home in Adelphi. Mr. Alber had been a resident of Adelphi for the last four or five years.

He was a Spanish-American war veteran and a member of Humboldt Masonic Lodge, Columbus.

Survivors include his widow, Mary E.; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Gantz and Mrs. Norman Roeck of Columbus; two brothers, George of Columbus and William of Grove City, and a grandson.

The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Adelphi Methodist Church, the Rev. S. C. Elsea of Jacksonville officiating. Burial will be in Green Summit Cemetery by L. E. Hill, Kingston.

LAURELVILLE

Mrs. Grace Dum was hostess to the members of the Les Amies Class of the M. E. Church at her new home on Laurel Street Wednesday evening.

During the short business session new officers were elected as follows:

Miss Gwendolyn Dent, president; Miss Celesta Hoy, vice-president; Miss Dorothy Lutz, secretary-treasurer.

Two interesting contests were presented by the hostess, Mrs. Dumm. The remainder of the social hour was spent playing contact, with each player receiving a prize.

At the close of the social hour refreshments were served to Miss Virginia Brightwell, Miss Dorothy Lutz, Mrs. Edith Vetter, Miss Helen De Long, Miss Jeanne Morris, Miss Margaret Chilcote, Miss Geneva Bigham, Miss Gwendolyn Dent, and Miss Celesta Hoy and the hostess Mrs. Dumm.

The men were Hugh Evans, 22, a plumber; his brother, Willis Evans, 20, a farmer; Hampton Lee, 26, a laborer, and J. C. Hann, 27.

The death march began at 6:30 a. m. EST, and 35 minutes later the last of the four was pronounced dead.

The Evans brothers and Lee were convicted on charges growing out of the abduction, robbery and mistreatment of a young white woman—a member of one of the state's most prominent families—after they had slugged her escort into unconsciousness. Hann was electrocuted for the murder of Ruby Boling, at Easley, S. C., June 6, 1939, whom he slashed to death with a razor. All four men confessed their crimes before going to the chair.

uncle, E. G. Ruff at his home, near Amanda, honoring his 69th birthday anniversary. The guests presented Mr. Ruff with a splendid birthday gift. At the noon hour a pot luck dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ruff, daughter Oma, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Kerns, daughter Ava Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Heigle, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Stickler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Armstrong and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hess and Miss Mary Ellen Miesse of Columbus were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Miesse.

Mrs. Homer Heiges spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kane of Lancaster.

Mrs. A. J. Snyder, son Jerry, spent a few days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mooney.

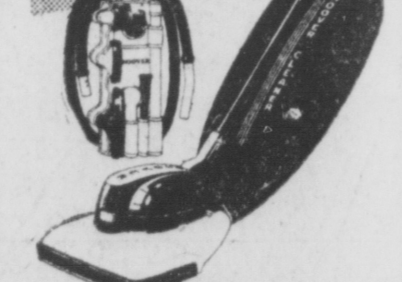

Mrs. Kenneth Fishpaw, daughter Anita Kay, of Cleveland are making an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young.

District Scouts Start Anniversary Observance

Boys To Serve Business Houses In City, Two Towns Saturday

ALL TO ATTEND CHURCH

Area Council Has Dinner Meeting With Several Local Men Present

Scouts and Scouters of Circleville and Pickaway County joined with others throughout America, Friday, in celebrating the 31st anniversary of the founding the Boy Scout movement.

During the coming week local Scouts will take an active part in social activities of the community. Saturday is Anniversary day for local scouts with all Circleville, Williamsport and New Holland scouts doing Good Turn service at various business places in their communities. Saturday evening at 7:30 scouts will listen to the nation-wide broadcast by President Roosevelt; Walter D. Head, president of the Boy Scouts of America, and Chief Scout Executive James E. West.

Sunday will be Scout Sunday, with scouts and their leaders being honored with special services in the various churches of the city and county.

Dan McClain, camping and activities chairman for the Pickaway District of the Central Ohio Council of the Boy Scouts of America, is in charge of Anniversary Week activities.

"Be Prepared"

Strengthening and invigorating democracy is the theme of the Scout Week celebration, and all troops are placing special emphasis on the Scout Motto "Be Prepared" and the training for service in case of emergency.

Pickaway County scouters celebrated the opening of Scout Week by attending an annual dinner meeting of the Central Ohio Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Y. W. C. A. in Columbus. Guest speaker at the banquet was Paul E. Brown, head football coach at Ohio State University. Coach Brown formerly was a scouter. Phil S. Bradford served as toastmaster for the occasion.

Silver Beaver awards presented to three men for their outstanding service to scouting during the year. They were W. S. Glesenkamp, Harold R. Lee and C. M. Riggs.

Local scouters who attended the meeting included William D. Radcliff, Renick Dunlap, L. V. Hulse, Dan McClain, Dr. J. J. Baker and Dr. David Goldschmidt.

WILLIAMSPORT

Mrs. Fanny Sampson is convalescing after her recent operation at the home of her sister Mrs. Katie West.

Byron Bolender and children, Martha and David of Circleville visited with Mrs. Fanny Sampson Sunday. Mrs. Sampson is at the home of Mrs. Katie West.

Members of the Forum enjoyed a cooperative supper Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Gire in Sabina. Those present from Williamsport were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose and daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Boyer and children Patty and Bobby, Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson and daughter Linda.

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Gamble and daughter Letitia visited all day Sunday with Mrs. Gamble's mother, Mrs. Letitia Decker of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bochar and Miss Carolyn Bochar visited Sunday with Mrs. Clinton Raymond of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunlap attended the funeral of Mrs. Owen Lamb in Columbus Tuesday. Mrs. Lamb was a sister of Mrs. Dunlap's.

Mrs. Florence Duveneck had as her Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Heusch of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hunsicker.

Mercy Ship's Skipper Sails

CAPTAIN Alfred Moore, skipper of the mercy ship Cold Harbor, receives a farewell kiss from Miss Helen Coppenhaver, Red Cross worker, as the vessel sails from Baltimore, Md. The Cold Harbor is taking a $1,000,000 relief cargo to France and Spain.

CHEMICAL FIRM ORDERED TO PAY BACK SALARIES

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—The Dow Chemical Co., of Midland, Mich., today was ordered by the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to reinstate 25 employees and pay them an estimated $100,000 in back wages as the court upheld the national labor relations board in all but one phase of its decree. The brief opinion of Judge John D. Martin granted enforcement of the board's order against the company except for a provision that it reimburse federal, state or municipal relief agencies for funds spent in caring for workers during their period of unemployment.

AMANDA

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Reid and Mrs. Ida Vincent of Millersport and James Liggett of Columbus motored to Pittsburgh, Pa., Monday and will spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Liggett.

VETERAN OF WAR WITH SPAIN DIES IN ADELPHI HOME

Henry Alber, 59, a retired employee of the Seagraves Corporation, Columbus, where he had worked for 25 years, died suddenly after a heart attack Thursday at 10:45 p. m. at his home in Adelphi. Mr. Alber had been a resident of Adelphi for the last four or five years.

He was a Spanish-American war veteran and a member of Humboldt Masonic Lodge, Columbus.

Survivors include his widow, Mary E.; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Gantz and Mrs. Norman Roek of Columbus; two brothers, George of Columbus and William of Grove City, and a grandson.

The funeral will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Adelphi Methodist Church, the Rev. S. C. Elisea of Jacksonville officiating. Burial will be in Green Summit Cemetery by L. E. Hill, Kingston.

LAURELVILLE

Mrs. Grace Dum was hostess to the members of the Les Amies Class of the M. E. Church at her new home on Laurel Street Wednesday evening.

During the short business session new officers were elected as follows:

Miss Gwendolyn Dent, president; Miss Celeste Hoy, vice-president; Miss Dorothy Lutz, secretary-treasurer.

Two interesting contests were presented by the hostess, Mrs. Dum. The remainder of the social hour was spent playing contract, with each player receiving a prize.

At the close of the social hour refreshments were served to Miss Virginia Brightwell, Miss Dorothy Lutz, Mrs. Edith Vetter, Miss Helen De Long, Miss Jeanne Morris, Miss Margaret Chilcote, Miss Geneva Bigham, Miss Gwendolyn Dent, and Miss Celeste Hoy and the hostess Mrs. Dum.

The men were Hugh Evans, 22, a plumber; his brother, Willis Evans, 20, a farmer; Hampton Lee, 26, a laborer, and J. C. Hann, 27.

The death march began at 6:30 a. m. EST, and 35 minutes later the last of the four was pronounced dead.

The Evans brothers and Lee were convicted on charges growing out of the abduction, robbery and mistreatment of a young white woman—a member of one of the state's most prominent families—after they had slugged her escort into unconsciousness. Hann was electrocuted for the murder of Ruby Boling, at Easley, S. C., June 6, 1939, whom he slashed to death with a razor. All four men confessed their crimes before going to the chair.

uncle, E. G. Ruff at his home, near Amanda, honoring his 69th birthday anniversary. The guests presented Mr. Ruff with a splendid birthday gift.
